Training to stay ahead of the competition

Construction Study Centre has been successfully delivering public and bespoke in-house training solutions to some of the UK's top performing companies for over 24 years.

By only using speakers who are highly experienced practitioners, currently working in their specialist fields, we have developed a reputation for quality and flexibility. Our experts have good communication skills and are able to share excellent practical insight, to support theoretical learning, and answer specific questions.

Professional training for professional people.

Bespoke In-house training courses

Our courses take place at a time, location and date convenient to you, avoiding disruption to your business and unnecessary impact on your staff; you receive quality, accredited CPD training.

In-house training can also help make your training budget go further. Construction Study Centre charges per course, rather than per individual, enabling you to maximise your investment.

Construction Study Centre will discuss and agree your specific training needs, prior to tailoring the course content, to meet your business needs. This will ensure that your people have the relevant information and skills to deliver quality, timely and cost effective projects. We will then support you to embed your teams' learning outcomes into their working environment.

We promise high quality, convenient, cost-effective training to meet your specific business needs.

New integrated approach to training

At Construction Study Centre we understand that in addition to the transfer of skills and knowledge, training has to deliver real business benefits and improvement. By expanding our range of services to offer both the identification and analysis of your training and competency needs, and then supporting you with consultancy, we can assist you in meeting your business objectives; through delivering the right training.

Training which can take place at one of our nation-wide Public courses or In-house, at your premises, at a time which is convenient for your organisation.

Public training courses

Construction Study Centre's public courses are throughout the UK including: London, Manchester and Birmingham.
